

HOPE MORROW

LABOR ECONOMIST, WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT LEAD

Hope Morrow is INL's resident Labor Economist leading workforce development strategy for the lab. Hope comes to INL with vast experience, following her years of service with the Department of Labor in both Idaho and Utah. Hope serves on Idaho's Workforce Development Council and has crucial involvement on all things economic development and labor market analysis. Hope and team published INL's first set of workforce projections in 2021 and connects partners across the state and nation on workforce development topics, labor market analysis and strategies.